DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-7, drawn to a method for preparing an organosilicate polymer and a coating composition comprising that polymer.

Group II, claim(s) 8-10, drawn to a method of manufacturing and the device prepared by the method.

PCT: Lack of Unity Posteriori

Lack of unity of invention may be may only become apparent "a posteriori," that is, after taking the prior art into consideration, in the case of independent claims to A + X and A + Y, unity of invention(i.e. species) is present a posteriori as A is common to both claims.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature which is referred to Annex B of Appendix A1 of the MPEP(Administrative Instructions under the PCT, "Unity of Invention"). The express "special technical features" is defined as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.”(Rule 13.2). Unity exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding claimed special technical features. In this case, the technical feature shared by each invention is the organosilicate polymer comprising a thermally decomposable organic silane compound that is capped with silane compounds at both its ends and a silane compound or silane oligomer.

The question of unity of invention has been reconsidered retroactively by the examiner in view of the search performed; a review of Ko et al. (U.S. PGPUB No. 2001/0055891) makes clear that the inventions of the groups I and II lack the same or corresponding special technical feature because the cited reference appears to demonstrate that the claimed technical feature does not define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. This is because Ko teaches the technical feature of an organosilicate polymer comprising a thermally decomposable organic silane compound that is capped with silane compounds at both its ends and a silane oligomer (0027-0031, 0036 and Structural Formula 1 on page 5). Accordingly, the prior art of the record supports restriction of the claimed subject matter to the groups as mentioned immediately above.

Joint Inventors

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Election by Telephone

A telephone call was made to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Conclusion

All claims are subject to election/restriction requirement.

No claim is allowed.
